

Greetings friends and family!

I am writing to you in a different format this month in place of our monthly Living Logos teaching newsletter because I wanted to share with you some exciting news regarding our ministry.

But before I do, I wanted to first communicate to all of our partners out there our sincerest gratitude for your faithful and generous support. Without your prayers and financial support, we would not be able to accomplish what we have been able to over the past

7 years. Lives are being changed and fruitful ministry is being accomplished. And your support is a vital part of all that we are doing. So, again, thank you from the bottom of our hearts!

Over the past 7-plus years our ministry has been making a difference not only here in the United States but also in the nation of India. For example, we have distributed thousands of my books throughout this hungry nation and I have traveled there now three times since 2011. LLM is making a difference all over the world!

So, now for the good news that I wanted to share with you this month: I am excited to announce that I am going on another mission trip to India in late October and I cannot wait to share the following details of this trip with you...

I am visiting two different cities this time- the large cities of Hyderabad & Chennai. I have visited both of these locations before and the fruit was tremendous in times past! I will be teaching in a couple of local Bible colleges as well as in several churches during this trip. (You will find attached pictures of some of this ministry from my last trip in 2015)

So, although the locations I am visiting and the venues I am ministering at are similar, there is one major difference. This year I am taking someone with me! Yes, this year I am having my church's administrative assistant/secretary, Bruce Van Bibber, travel with me.

Some of you might not know Bruce, but he is a solid and hungry believer who also has a heart for missions, along with his wife, Marsha. So, it seemed good to me to ask him to accompany me. I believe Bruce will be of great assistance to me and this will also enrich his heart for mission's and also give him more invaluable experience on the mission field.

So, I wanted to give you a personal invitation to come with us too! No, I am not talking about you physically accompanying us on this trip this time, but I am inviting you to come be a part of sending Bruce and I through your prayers and financial support!

Of course, I don't have to tell you that this takes money to do all of this. Thankfully, our partners have enabled us to do some of this already, but with the costs associated with both of us, we still need, at a minimum, $6,000. It is for this reason that I wanted to invite you to join with me in partaking of the harvest that we will be reaping in late October.

Would you please consider either becoming a partner of Living Logos Ministries to help us for the long haul or by supporting us with a one-time gift to go specifically towards my trip to India in October?

Saints, partnering with various ministries on top of supporting your local church is such an important thing to do in the Body of Christ. Ministries like ours rely on their partners to do the things we are called to do. And I can tell you from personal experience, giving above and beyond the first 10% by giving offerings to other ministries is one of the wisest financial decisions a believer can make. Why? Because you cannot out-give God! The more you faithfully and graciously sow, the more you will reap! So, I encourage you to find good, solid ministries to support on a monthly basis.

And I can assure you, saints, LLM is one of those ministries. I believe whole-heartedly that we are good ground and we certainly maximize our resources in a faithful and wise manner. We value your friendship and would be honored to have you come alongside of us- working together with us at fulfilling our God-ordained mandate.

So please consider becoming a supporter of our ministry and see the promise of the Apostle Paul become your reality today where he said to the church of Philippi that we can become partners with the grace that is on a ministry. In other words, the exceedingly growing grace that is upon Living Logos Ministries will also reflect in your life as you are laying up eternal treasures in heaven! Hallelujah!

Enclosed you will find an insert- one side being for those who feel led to partner with us and the other side being for those who might want to help us with a one-time gift. If you feel led to join us, please just fill out and return the enclosed insert with your checks made payable to Living Logos Ministries (or LLM). You can also give via debit/credit card by visiting our website at www.treydickerson.com and by clicking on the donate button. Please know as well that all financial gifts are tax deductible as Living Logos Ministries is a 501c-3 Tax-Exempt Corporation. Thank you in advance for your love and support!

Victoriously,
